MANY CONFERENCES AHEAD

Report President Desired Vote on Principle of League Denied

The Democrats Plan to Abolish Speeches to Facilitate Work

(By Associated Press)

Washington, February 26.—In accordance with his decision to call no extra session of Congress before his second return from France, President Wilson planned today to aid by his presence at the capitol efforts of democratic leaders to force through the big appropriation bills and other important legislation before adjournment next Tuesday.

Conferences at the capitol were arranged for today or tomorrow as work at the White House would permit.

Senator Martin, the democratic floor leader, urged upon the committee chairmen the necessity for quick work and asked his colleagues to leave all speech making to the republicans.

An official denial was made today of reports that the President desired a vote of approval for the principle of a league of nations. It was pointed out the league was to be a constituent part of the peace treaty which would come up for ratification at the next session.

The President was said to be anxious to make another public address before returning to Europe, but was not certain he would have the time.

The President's Appeal

President Wilson is back again in America. He returns with the draft of the great agreement among the nations—the constitution of the league of nations—to present it to the American people for discussion and consideration.

It is undoubtedly right and proper that the people and the people's representatives in Congress should pass through an era of discussion upon so momentous a step as that which membership in the League of Nations involves. It is, beyond all question, proper that so important a step should not be taken without deliberate and, above all else, honest and fair-minded consideration.

It is not exactly clear though that we have, in the presentation of the league of nations proposal, reached the forks of the road. So far as the Monroe Doctrine is concerned and so far as present and future conditions affect our national isolation, the parting of the ways was reached when America entered the world war and pledged all her gigantic strength to the cause of liberty.

When this nation "to the last man and the last dollar" consecrated itself to the defense of liberty throughout the world to all people everywhere we undertook the establishment, it seems, of a new Monroe Doctrine, a broader and a more comprehensive, more unselfish attitude of protection of the smaller nations and the weaker peoples—a doctrine to which all the great civilized nations of the world could and would subscribe and pledge their resources to uphold.

It is to be hoped that politics will be forgotten in the consideration and discussion of the great problem which confronts America.

The President made his first address at Boston on Monday and like all of his addresses it was beautiful and convincing. His discussion of the proposal was more general than specific but later on the people will have either from President Wilson or from those with whom he confers, the full details of the plan coincident with which is certain to come a wide range of discussion—some favorable and some antagonistic. So long as the discussion is maintained on the high plane which so colossal a proposal deserves there can be and will be no objection and nothing save good can result.

With the general proposal that America make secure the fruits of the great victory won there can be no fault found, but with the detail plans which the objection incurs, with the security offered there may be room for a wide difference of opinion.

One fact is evident and that is that President Wilson has determined to go straight to the American people with the most gigantic proposal of all time, confident of the verdict which the people will return.

It must be conceded at the outset that America entered the war with some more definite ideas than assisting in winning the war to restore old conditions in Europe.

If conditions as they existed before the world war were a menace will our soldiers and sailors not have suffered and died in vain unless those conditions are changed for all time?

If we oppose the league of nations what have we to offer in its stead which will make the glorious victory won on the field of battle worth while?

President Wilson appeals to the American people to join in the league of nations. The agreement is the result of the united effort of the greatest statesmen and "idealists" in the world unanimously reached.

They Lied Easily

German propaganda played up different points of prejudice in various countries, But George Creel says the fundamentals were much the same everywhere.

"As an initial proposition, Americans were described as a nation of dollar-grabbers, devoid of ideals and inordinate in their ambitions.

"Our war with Mexico was played up as a cold-blooded, evil conquest, and our struggle with Spain painted as an effort of our financial masters to enter upon dreams of world imperialism. Cuba, the Philippines and Porto Rico were pitted as 'America's slave nations,' Pershing's expedition to Mexico was declared to be the start of a war of conquest that we were later forced to relinquish because our 'cowardice' shrank before the 'dauntless' courage of Carranza; the Colorado coal strike, the Lawrence strike and the Patterson strikes were all treated in the utmost detail to prove America's 'system of wage slavery'; pictures were drawn of tremendous wealth on the one hand and peonage on the other; lynchings were exaggerated until it was made to appear that almost every tree in America was used for purposes of execution, and we were charged in every conceivable form and fashion of being the secret partner of one or the other of the allies in commercial plans to control the trade of the world."—Everybody's Magazine.

POEM FOR TODAY

PURIFICATION.

Beneath the melting pot that held all men—
 America's true sons and traitor-hearted foes—
 The patriotic fire burned low again
 As some forgotten ember redly glows.

War came and fanned it with a breath,
 The flame leapt up—a living, white-hot blaze;
 The sacred fire that knows not time nor death
 Burned with the fervid heat of other days.

The melting pot began to seethe and boil,
 With gold and dross from avenue and slum,
 With hirelings of proud Kings, with men of toil—
 And ever, to the top, rose up the scum.

Those She had welcomed to Her heart and land,
 And given all Her own had e'er attained;
 Who hated Her and lied—yet took Her hand
 In loyalty and friendship basely feigned.

And for a time America was blind,
 Or thought Her fire had power it was denied—
 To change dross into gold—that She would find
 Filth could be cleaned by fire and purified.

She saw the bitter truth late in the day,
 Learned that Herself the pot must skim;
 Unmercifully fling the bad away
 That hid the good beneath its surface grim.

And clean again America can never be
 Until the slum is gone—the foul, the base,
 Till She can look within and only see
 The faithful golden image of Her face.

CHINA UNDER JAP CONTROL BY TREATIES

Four Score Agreements Held by Japan Leaves China Bound Hand and Foot, is Claim

Washington, February 26.—(By Associated Press)—It has been learned that information has been received from authoritative sources that between 70 and 80 treaties, agreements and understandings are in existence and operative between China and Japan. While the terms of all these treaties are not known, according to this information, each strengthens Japan's influence in China.

The information received here is that many of these agreements date back three or four years and are not referred to in the recent statement issued in Peking by the Chinese foreign office. It was said that various kinds of concessions, including railways, mineral lands, steamship lines, commercial privileges and financial preferences were included in these agreements.

Paris, February 26.—Japanese financiers are granted the privilege of making loans to China for the building of hundreds of miles of railroads in Mongolia, Manchuria and China proper, and the Japanese are granted the right to participate in the operation of the railroads now constructed in Shantung Province, under notes exchanged by China and Japan September 24, 1918.

These notes, which are now before the peace conference, supplement the treaty and notes of May 25, 1915, between Japan and China, in which the Chinese government engaged to recognize all agreements between the Japanese and Germans respecting the disposition of German rights and interests in Shantung Province.

Baron Goto, Japanese minister of foreign affairs, and Tsung-Hsiang Chang, Chinese minister to Japan, signed the three sets of notes exchanged December 24, last year.

One set outlined the new railways which Japanese capitalists may finance in Manchuria, Mongolia and Chi-Li Province, north China.

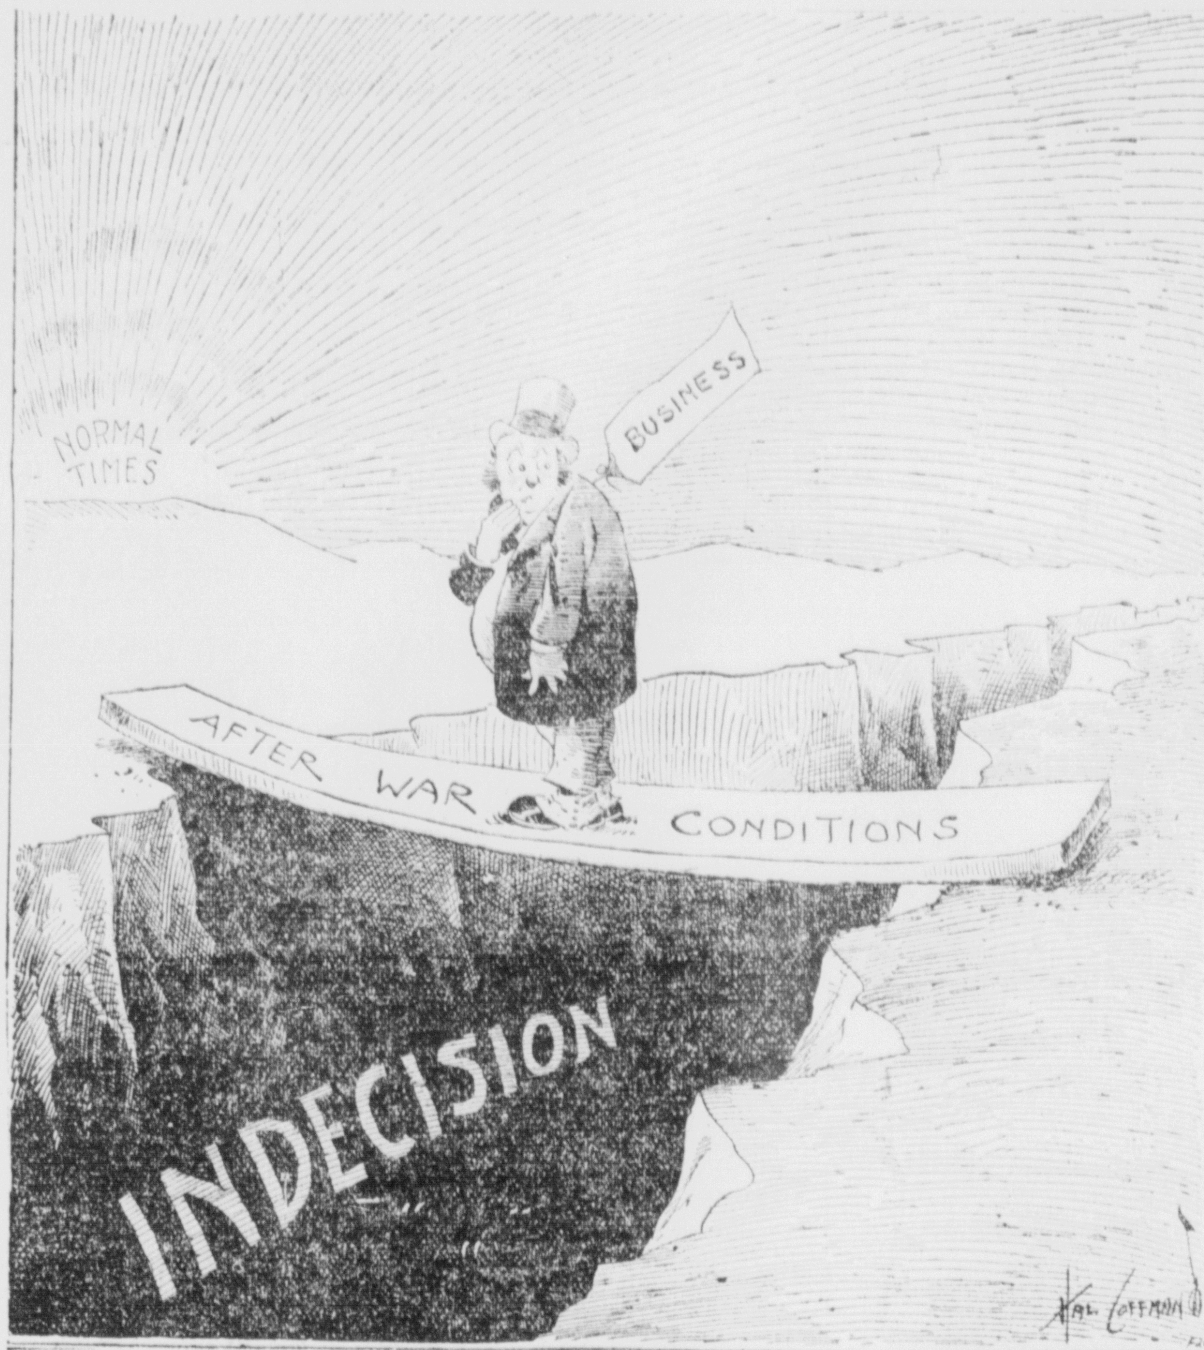

The second act outlines the railways Japanese capitalists may finance in Shantung Province, to connect the existing German-owned lines with the other principal railway lines in north China.

The third set stipulates the conditions under which Japan may participate with China in Shantung Province affairs.

 Washington, February 26.—Arrest of two additional naval reservists in connection with the investigation of charges of bribery in the Third Naval District was announced last night by Secretary Daniels. This makes a total of five men now held. They are: Lieutenants Benjamin S. Davis and Benoit James Ellert; Ensign Paul Beck and Chief Boatswains Lloyd G. Casey and Frederick A. Jones.

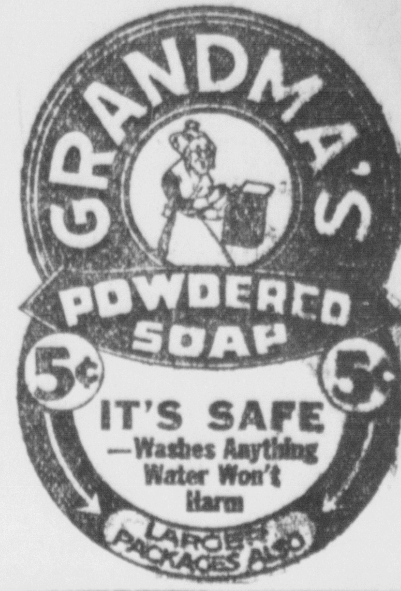

A statement issued by Secretary Daniels said Davis was believed to have received $10,000 for enrolling men in the naval service and that Ellert was believed to have received $20,000 in addition to a large number of presents for having obtained assignment of applicants for such duties as would enable them to continue their business in civil life.

The Secretary said evidence in possession of the department showed that Casey received a total of about $3000 and valuable presents for placing several enlisted men on shore duty, while Ensign Beck was alleged to have received $1000 and a number of presents for obtaining the assignment of applicants "to safe berths on shore."

News of Interest to Women

With the Art Department in charge Mrs. Austin F. Hopkins, Vice Chairman presiding, the Browning Club held interesting session Tuesday night at the Federated Club room.

Subjects of exceptional appeal in line with this department were presented in fine papers.

The motto for the evening, "The groves were God's first Temples" was an excellent keynote to the first paper of the evening, "Trees as an Inspiration for the Art of all Ages," by Mrs. Haidee Van Winkle Coffman. In her splendid paper she developed the thought of the large place and reverence accorded to trees in story, in song, and in art. How our love for the beautiful in trees has been enhanced by the paintings of different artists, particularly Corot, in his wonderful form and coloring.

The discussion which followed dealt largely with the protection we owe to trees in order to preserve them from ruthless destruction.

The second paper of the evening was "Character and the Camera," by Miss Mary Pyley, a most interesting paper giving a vast amount of information of the rapid progress in present day photography, of the study which the world famed photographer gave to the character behind the subject, whatever it may be, in order to portray it well. Miss Pyley also gave a very delightful review of the marvelous present day production for the movies, speaking particularly of the Griffith masterpieces.

The third paper of the evening was "The Indian's Contribution to Art in America," by Mrs. Josephine Kerr, a most delightful paper along this fascinating line of study. Especially interesting was the account of the wonderful blankets and baskets, which are oftentimes such gems of coloring and handy work. The art of the Indian is a real delineation of the Indian Character, though it may mean only a few crude lines.

As the close to a splendid program Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter gave in her delightful way, some readings from Lowell, commemorating the centennial anniversary of the much beloved American poet.

After-War Amusements are coming in for much discussion in church circles, awakened to the need of providing wholesome diversion and meeting conditions greatly altered by the war. Naturally there is wide diversion in opinions, but only in regard to the character of the amusements, not in the fact that wholesome amusement is a necessity.

Considerable discussion has been aroused by a recent sermon delivered by Rev. Robert J. MacAlpine, a brilliant young Presbyterian minister of Buffalo, N. Y., on this subject of After-War Amusements.

"Among the new viewpoints brought about by the war none is more evident than that of amusements," said the Rev. Mr. MacAlpine. "Now that the war is over, the world has turned once more to the call for amusements. And rightly so. But what of the new view point? The whole question of amusements is being viewed from a wider angle. In answer to this important query one thing is certain, the church has awakened to the fact that in the past she failed to see that amusements are an essential part of the activities of the soul, without which the soul is incomplete.

"In many instances church doors have been opened for bowling, billiards, dancing, and other amusements. The question is knocking so hard at the church doors that the day is past when the demand can go unheeded. It is, therefore, up to the churches to meet the situation. They must meet it by recognizing these amusements as churches, and then setting about to correct the undesirable elements that have crept into what were once uplifting, as well as amusing pastimes. If dancing has become improper, the church must make it proper; if card playing has become largely a gambling game, the church must purge it of its incubus; if theater going has become morally questionable, the church must see that it becomes absolutely unquestionable. We must stop this unprincipled practice of simply condemning these amusements, then folding our arms with the smug complacency that we have done our duty. Such negative programs never get anywhere.

"These amusements have a place to fill in the human constitution, and are, therefore, here to stay. Then let the church see to it that they are enjoyed under the sweetest and most wholesome conditions possible. If I had my way, every bowling alley, billiard and pool table in Buffalo would be under the direct or indirect care of the churches, even should it be necessary to have them under our church roofs.

"I disdain the idea of Sunday moving pictures that have no regard whatever to the purpose of the great basic principles for which the Lord's Day stands. Yet few would object to the keeping open of movies on Sunday, if through proper censorship the purpose of the Sabbath were conserved."

"A woman can talk longer than a man," says the San Francisco Chronicle, "because she uses less force in speaking than the man does. A professor has proved by delicate measurements that the baritone singer uses far more energy than the tenor, and that the bass singer uses more force than either.

The difference between the force used by the contralto and the soprano singer is marked, and the contralto who sings in deep tones uses at least ten times the force of the thrilling soprano.

The explanation is so simple that it is surprising that the investigation was not made before. It has long been known that the tenor or soprano brings the vocal chords close together and keeps the edges only vibrating by the emission of air. The bass or contralto leaves the space between the chords wide open and has to vibrate much more of the membranes, so that a considerably larger amount of air is required and much more force is expended.

Persons with high, squeaky voices often seem to be loquacious, and the reason is now plain—they can talk with far less effort than those who take a deeper tone and have to use more air to utter their words. Thus a woman can out talk a man because she has the advantage of using from one-seventh to one-sixteenth less lung power."

Much interest followed the announcement of the arrival of the first division of war brides in this country.

There were only 15 in the the party and they were English and French wives of American officers and men who were overseas with Pershing's crusaders. They found time for love as well as war, and were married on the spot. Now the husbands have been sent back to America for demobilization and the wives followed at the earliest opportunity—although not suffered to journey on the same boat with their spouses. The first installment is about equally divided between France and England—with Scotch and Canadian girls counting as English. They are welcomed with warmth and affection by everybody except the former sweethearts of some of the soldiers. There will be a good many more of them, and they will keep coming for a year or more.

The question now remains to be solved as to their future happiness. It is hardly to be hoped that these marriages will turn out better than the average American marriage—there is the probability that with the difference in early environment and ideas some of them may be quite unhappy.

Yet there is no sufficiently serious argument against these international marriages to prevent some of them from turning out most happily. The well established fact that Americans make the best husbands in the world and show to wives a difference and consideration not so customary in foreign countries leads to the belief that these brides have a much better chance for happiness than would American girls going over to wed foreigners.

The force altogether number about 1200. Following the London police strike they obtained recently various concessions. Though equally under the control of the government, the Dublin police are less like a military force than the Royal Irish Constabulary on which the maintenance of public order throughout the country depends, and the Constabulary are so far unaffected by Trades Unionism.

FARM NOTES

State Sheep Industry.

Aside from the dog, the greatest cause for decreased sheep production in Ohio is the stomach worm, according to Dr. L. P. Beechy, extension veterinary specialist of the Ohio State University. It is a small red and white worm about one-half to one inch in size. It sucks the blood of the host and causes it to run down until it finally dies.

Eggs are deposited in the stomach and are later discharged. Under favorable conditions, the eggs soon hatch on the ground. The larvae crawl up the blades of grass and ensue themselves. By feeding on the grass the sheep become infested, the worm matures and the life cycle is completed.

Dr. H. B. Ransom of the United States Department of Agriculture, suggests frequent change of pasture as one remedy. Sheep may be kept together from November to April. In April they may be kept on the same pasture for the entire month. In May, change the pasture every two weeks; in June, every ten days; in July and August every week; in September, every ten days; and in October, every two weeks. A permanent pasture can be separated by a fence and the two parts can be used alternately.

A one percent solution of sulphate of copper administered as a drench, following starvation for 24 hours is now recognized as the most effectual method of treating an infested flock. Dose from one to two and one-half ounces, according to the age and the size of sheep. One dose is usually sufficient. If the entire flock were treated in the fall when taken off pasture and again in the spring before turning out it would go a long way toward keeping pastures free of the pest.

INCOME TAX SLOGANS ARE VERY PLENTIFUL

Washington, February 26.—(By Associated Press)—Slogans coined by the Internal Revenue Bureau to stimulate early and full payment of income taxes reflect the changed conditions in which the taxpayer finds himself now that victory has been won and hostilities have ceased. The powers of autocracy have been defeated but the monetary cost of the success still is to be met, largely by the taxes to be paid this year.

"Army of Occupation sounds good but it needs your support," says one of the slogans. Then it asks, "Have you paid your income tax?"

Another classes an income tax receipt with a gold service stripe.

Those who celebrated victory most loudly are reminded that "tooting a horn on armistice day did not end your part in winning a peace with victory. Paying your income tax makes more real noise than tooting a horn."

Persons who may be inclined to grumble at the increased rate of taxation are given food for thought in the following:

"If you think your income tax is a hardship, picture what you would have been up against had William Hohenzollern won the collectorship job?"

Other slogans include:

"You stand up for the National Anthem. Now stand up and pay your income tax."

"There were no delinquents at Chateau Thierry. Are you delaying the payment of your income tax?"

"Don't try to fool your conscience by cheering the returning soldiers and forgetting to pay your income tax. An income tax evader hasn't much on any of the other pro-Germans."

GIANT CATCHER

BILL RARIDEN

Bill Rariden, who did the bulk of the catching for the New York Giants last season, was traded to the Cincinnati Reds, along with Walter Holke for Hal Chase, according to a report from Cincinnati. It was recently reported that Rariden intended to retire from the game, and if he does not change his mind the New York club will make a cash settlement to the Reds.

5000 CANS SOON FOR CREAMERY

The first of five car loads of ten-gallon cans consigned to The Sunlight Creameries has reached this city and within a short time the additional four cars will arrive.

Each car contains 1,000 brand new cans, and these will be painted by machinery within the next few weeks, the body of each can receiving a coat of deep blue and the tops coats of yellow, while the trademark of the Sunlight Creameries—a golden sun with rays will be placed upon the blue background, giving a very distinctive marking to the thousands of cans to be used by the firm.

At the present time eight traveling men are working for The Sunlight Creameries, and more are to be added in the near future.

As spring approaches the activities of the big concern will increase, and just as soon as the railroad siding can be constructed on the sales barn site, large quantities of material and equipment will begin pouring in for the big plant to be erected on the site, the slowness of the railroad being the cause of delay in constructing the switch.

The cost of the switch, which had to be guaranteed by the committee conducting the negotiations, will soon be raised among the business interests of the city.

SPLENDID WORK OF R. C. CIVILIAN RELIEF

The Red Cross Civilian Relief Work has reached 5,000 more families of Soldiers and Sailors than in any previous month according to the January report of James L. Fieser, Director of the Lake Division Civilian Relief Department.

The report shows a total of 25377 families dealt with during the month; in 17461 cases some tangible help was rendered; in 7916 cases information only was needed. During the month $57,171.42 was spent in financing the relief work done by this Red Cross Department.

LAST WAR CHEST PAYMENT IS DUE

The final payment of the Fayette County War Chest will be due within the next few days, March bringing in the last monthly payment, and so far the payments have been very satisfactory, and the good resulting from the War Chest and which will continue to result until the last dollar is expended, has been beyond words to tell.

It will be recalled the War Chest Committee some time ago decided after three fourths of the amount pledged had been paid, no further payments would be required, and that one fourth of the full amount, which many paid at the beginning, would be refunded.

To those who have been negligent in paying their monthly installments attention is being called to the necessity of completing the payments during the month of March so that the business may be well in hand and the funds be ready to meet the demands upon the War Chest.

It is announced that the bulk of those pledging to the War Chest are sacredly observing their pledges and paying the installments as they are due.

DENIES CLAIMS OF 332ND SOLDIERS

Washington, February 26.—Denial of charges contained in a letter read in the house recently as to conditions in the Three Hundred and Thirty-second Infantry in Italy was made by Brigadier General Charles G. Treat, American military attaché at Rome, in a cablegram forwarded to Secretary Baker by General Pershing. General Treat said the regiment was in good physical condition, well equipped, had experienced no serious food hardships and had had a very low number of summary courts-martial.

One of the charges made in the letter was that officers of the regiment were drinking to excess. General Treat denied this emphatically and declared that the regiment as a whole had been warmly praised wherever it had served for its good behavior and efficiency. The message also denied a report that horse meat had been served to the command.

O. E. S. QUILTING

THE SINN FEINERS ESTABLISH COURT

Dublin, February 10.—(By Associated Press Correspondent)—The Sinn Feiners announce that they are establishing in Ireland Courts of Arbitration to deal with legal business, intended to take the place of the King's Courts. By resorting to the Sinn Fein tribunals it is urged that the people may avoid the payment of fees to the British exchequer and the employment of a lawyer generally out of sympathy with the Sinn Fein cause. It is claimed that every sort of case from small debts to high court actions can be successfully handled in the Sinn Fein Courts some of which are said to be already at work. No method has been provided by which the Sinn Fein Courts may enforce their decrees.

AMERICANS SEE MEXICAN BOOM

Laredo, Texas, February 26.—(By Associated Press Correspondent)—American business men have been preparing for a boom in Mexican business since regulations governing exportation of food and general supplies to Mexico have been modified. Representatives of scores of nationally known concerns have passed thru this border city recently to arrange for establishing branch houses or distributing warehouses in Mexico.

Business interests here believe that within the next three months all special export restrictions will be removed and goods will pass into Mexico as freely as before the Mexican disturbances began. Recent modifications have been so extensive that the embargoes now cover only few commodities.

"The President said he would return to Paris immediately after March 4 and was positive that he would not call an extraordinary session of Congress until he returns," Senator Martin said. "He did not state the date of his return nor did he authorize me to quote him in respect to that point, but my personal opinion and judgment is that there is no reasonable expectation of his being back prior to June 1."

It is understood that the executive will vigorously insist that all pending appropriation bills and other urgent legislation be enacted before Congress adjourns next Tuesday, to provide for operation of the government in the event his work at Paris should hold him after July 1, when the new appropriations would be needed.

It was reported that failure of any of the mass of urgent legislation would be charged by the President and administration leaders to the Republicans. Mr. Wilson is said to have been advised that except for Republican opposition the present situation is such that all appropriation and other bills can be passed. The President is reported ready to advise the country of the situation and insist upon enactment of all urgent measures.

The President's decision added to night to the uncertainty of events during the closing days of Congress. Republican leaders were said to be ready to disclaim responsibility for failure of legislation on the ground that enactment of all the mass of money and other bills in the remaining five working days is impossible with continuous debate scheduled daily on the proposed constitution of the league of nations.

SUFFRAGISTS IN TWO-DAY SESSION
TO ADOPT PLANS

Ohio Women From Every Part of State Will Formulate Program to Be Carried Out

Solons Probably Will Adopt Plan for An Amendment

(By Associated Press)

Columbus, O., February 26.—Decision as to what equal suffrage legislation will be requested of the Ohio legislature during the present session is expected to be made by the Ohio Woman Suffrage Association at a two-day convention begun here today.

The executive committee is expected to consider two plans, either or both of which may be recommended. They are resubmission of a state constitutional amendment providing for complete suffrage and a state law that would give women the right to vote for presidential electors as was provided in the Reynolds law which was defeated at the referendum last November. The legislature is expected to take favorable action, it is said, on any program presented.

The convention opened at 9:30 o'clock with a meeting of the executive committee, presided over by Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, president of the association. Delegates were formally welcomed at the afternoon session by Henry A. Williams, president of the local chamber of commerce. This session also heard reports of various committees and vice presidents Miss DuPont of Cleveland, Mrs. Doro Sandoe Bachman of Columbus, and Miss Anna B. Johnson, of Springfield. A reception will be held this evening.

Report of the elections committee on nominations will be made at tomorrow's session, followed by reports on Ohio congressmen and how they stand on woman suffrage.

At this session Miss Alice Vognos, of Canton, will give a plan of the work proposed for the coming year, and Mrs. Edith Morris Hughes, of Lima, corresponding secretary, will work of the association's special war work.

The final business session will be held tomorrow afternoon, when the president's annual address will be given and reports of the resolutions committee will be received. A discussion with Mrs. Mary White Slater, of Ironton; Mrs. D. L. Sherwood, of Lima; Mrs. H. B. Monges, of Toledo; Mrs. O. F. Davison, of Dayton; Mrs. J. P. Wallace, of Cincinnati; Miss Grace D. Treat, of Cleveland, and Miss Alice Vognos, of Canton, as speakers, will follow. A dinner at 6:30 tomorrow evening will conclude the program.

Mrs. Josephine Kerr, Washington C. H., represents the Seventh District.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 16c and 25c per box. All druggists.

DRAWS $200 AND COSTS ON CHARGE
KEEPING A PLACE

After a trial before Mayor Dahl which lasted much of Tuesday, Joe Dunson, colored, was found guilty of keeping a place where intoxicants were sold and was fined $200 and the costs which he will be required to pay.

On Monday Dunson had been assessed a fine of $25 and the costs on a charge of gambling. The charge against Dunson, of which he was convicted Tuesday, was filed by State Liquor License Inspector Galloway, who filed the charge while in this city some two or three weeks ago, but the hearing had never taken place because a witness wanted was not available at the previous times set for the hearing.

The conviction of Dunson is one of a half dozen or more in connection with charges filed by the inspector. In every case filed convictions resulted, the only exception being that against Lew Pickens, who was released to obtain bond some two weeks ago and who evidently has not obtained it as he has not returned.
